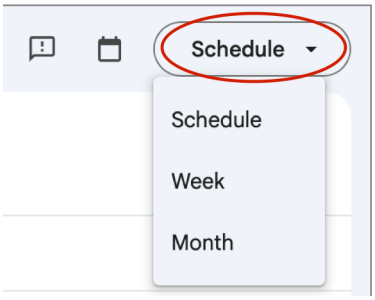
Help with the Google Calendar Embedded in fmcquaker.org

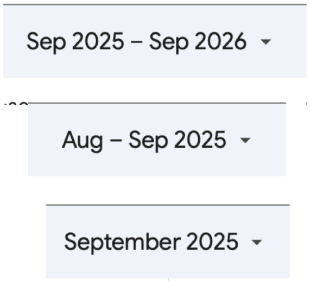
To see details of an event:
Click on the event in any view.

To change views:

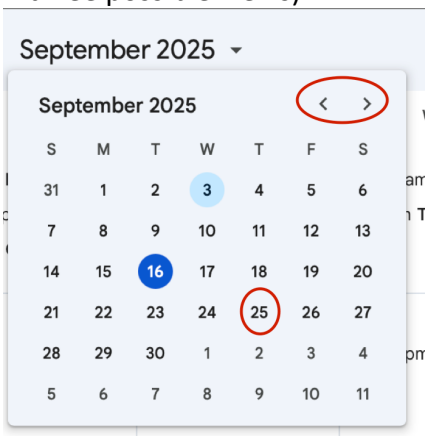


Click the button at the top right of the calendar; then click one of the three options.

To go to a particular date:

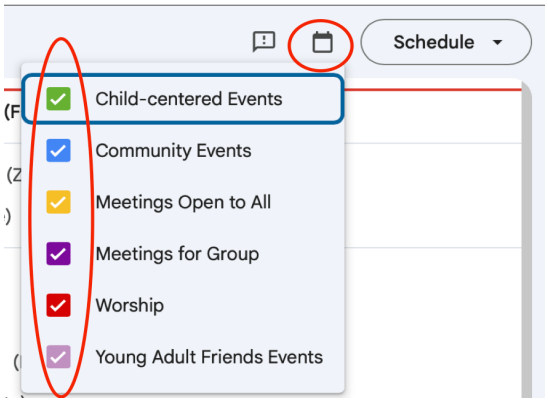


Click the date selection button in the upper left of the calendar (shown above for all three possible views).



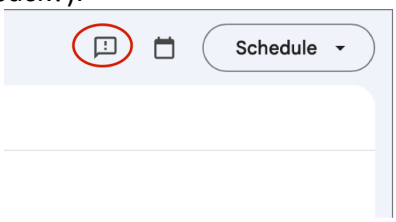
Click < or > to change months; then click the date you want. You will be shown all events on the day you selected, along with neighboring dates.

To hide certain categories of events:

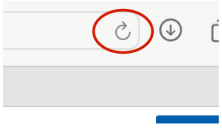


Click the "calendars" button shown at the right above; then unclick any category of event you don't want to see. Click any invisible category you want to start seeing. Note the color coding.

To recover if the calendar becomes unresponsive:
For instance, this can happen if you click the "send feedback to Google" button, as shown (they don't want our feedback?).



The thing to do is to refresh the website by clicking the refresh button at the top of the browser window (its exact position varies, depending on the browser you are using).



If you have a suggestion or a question, please write to calendarhelp@fmcquaker.org